The Speaker of the House and the Vice President were notified by the President of his appearance before Congress in joint session at 12:30 today to deliver a message on the railroad situation.

Reports as to its contents were merely atmospheric. As it was ex-pected to deal, among other things, with compensation for the railroads, the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce left the lead to the President. Its investigation under the Cummins resolution has been ad-

Issues of the Congressional elec-tions this year and of the next Presidential election developed sud-denly before the Senate Committee Manufactures yesterday. Food Administrator Hoover had resume had been fixed when there is no au-thority of law for fixing prices except as Congress itself has done so. This introduced a question of "fixation" or "stabilization" in wheat, flour, and food prices generally. Neither Administrator Hoover nor Chairman Reed was prepared, but with his records in reach, Senator Reed had all the advantage and forced the issue.

Hoover admitted the documentary payment of excess profits and income; evidence that he had said there was taxes, it was announced today in a nothing whatever in the bill, establishing his department and creating Revenue. Should the check not be paid by the bank on which it is "stabilization." Reed forced him on stabilization." Reed forced him on drawn, howe r, the person by whom that issue until he said that he it was offered in payment of taxes would not "quibble"—that fixation. der the tax and for legal penalties in might be a part of stabilization, as addition, in the same manner as if no such check had been received.

> Reed then asked him to point out single clause or line in the law giving him or any one else authority for the control thus exercised Hoover could find no direct authority in the law for fixing prices, but inferred it from the preamble. After a struggle over the preamble, Reed, assuming Hoover's surrender, asked if he did not know that the exercise of power in this way, when hot given by law, would constitute in ordinary times, gross and criminal usurpation, which would certainly be punished Hoover answered that the power was exercised "by authority of the President of the United States." Reed said that "the President's coattalls were broad," and that his greatness was recognized at home and abroad, but the question of authority law had not been answered by the witness in his own case,

The point had been made for the record on an issue which will last after all questions of arming and clothing the troops have been forgotten. The examination on sugar was then resumed. It lasted all day, bearing on points already in the record and forcing into print every possible admission on two main con-tentions—that of fixing prices without authority from Congress and of so fixing them as to permit a pos-sible corner on sugar and a general scarcity in the market. Mr. Hoover held his ground best in showing his power of persuading consumers and producers to work voluntarily with his department for conservation of

WHY WE WENT TO WAR WITHOUT GUNS covers from every angle the Congressional investigation of the War Department. It presents the criticisms leveled at the Administration and also the evidence adduced in its favor, with comments from the press of the United States.

UNCLE SAM TAKES OVER THE RAILROADS—Is this the first step toward Government ownership? Will the situation continue after the war? To get an answer to such questions THE DIGEST telegraphed to leading editors throughout the country asking for an expression of opinion upon this latest and most radical war-measure, and this article gives illuminating replies from them.

CENTRAL POWERS ANXIOUS TO QUIT deals with a subject of vital human interest, being a resume of public opinion upon Germany's latest peace proposal.

THE TRUTH AT THE BOTTOM OF THE SUGAR-BARREL concludes the story in last week's DIGEST of the investigation of Mr. Hoover and the Food Administration.
